THE BOATING INDUSTRY CHANGE MAKER

In a market that is still not very industrialized and rather fragmented, Sea Style Company has quickly established itself as a decisive, unconventional supplier for most of the large Italian shipbuilders, which represent an undisputed world leadership in terms of numbers and turnover.

The sophisticated organization of Sea Style Company, the care for industrial processes and for professional and technical standards, the reliability in planning and mediation towards naval registers, surveyors and shipowners, have allowed constant growth over the years and have made it a key player in the entire national supply chain.

Among the most prestigious clients we can include Benetti, Sanlorenzo, Overmarine, The Italian Sea Group, Fincantieri. For most of them, Sea Style Company takes on all the production phases aimed at the construction of superyacht hulls, superstructures and systems in steel and alloys, in segregated spaces, starting from the development of construction drawings, through the so-called nesting, up to cutting and shaping of the sheets or the assembly of the carpentry elements, all according to the technical-quality standards typical of the luxury boating industry, which include steel preparation and straightening.

In short, Sea Style Company, with the original business unit called Shipbuilding and Refitting (SBR), has pushed the capability of its shipyards to an innovative level and today it is a significant industry change maker.

OUR MANIFESTO

Sea Style Company believes that high-end Italian production can be consolidated, preserving the typical value of Made in Italy, focusing on innovation of processes and materials, with a view to allowing the superyacht cluster to remain competitive with emerging and low-cost markets, especially because they lack the necessary environmental and social protections.

For this reason, the company aims to implement its operational areas and increase its productivity within the next two years, offering its customers quality standards that are completely identical to those of artisanal production, but with the certainty of deliveries.

In the strategy of Sea Style Company, also through the development of refitting activities, there is finally the ambition to become the essential industrial pivot for the main brands of Italian boating industry, strengthening their commercial capacity with international shipowners.

In short, from sheet metal to luxury fittings, from construction to after-sales, Sea Style Company presents itself as a single window of value for all sea-addicted players.

In essence, the sea forces solidarity, creativity and flexibility, at sea all things in the world seem different. It is with this spirit that Sea Style Company designs and builds its products, for the most demanding and elegant customers.

We the sea.

SOMETHING ABOUT QUALITY AND SUSTAINABILITY

All our opportunities, every daily emotion and even the memories of solid growth come from the sea, and from nature in general. This is why Sea Style Company believes that there can be no luxury and results if not in full respect of the environment that surrounds us. The quality that our operators put into every action on construction site takes on value in the eyes of the most demanding and sensitive customers only if accompanied by the most stringent rules of sustainability and circularity.

If an industrial activity is not good for the sea, then it is not a project for Sea Style Company. It is no coincidence that we wrote “we the sea” in our company payoff, because we believe in it and with this spirit every product that leaves our factories responds to the logic of the sustainable development goals of the United Nations Agenda 2030.

For further information, please refer to our annual sustainability report.
